

Paul Bambei is currently the President & CEO of the National Association of RV Parks and Campgrounds (arvc) based in Denver, Colorado, where he's served since December, 2010.

Paul previously served as a senior telecommunications professional with over 25 years of experience in the fields of cable television management and satellite operations, serving top Fortune 100 companies such as Time, Inc. and Comcast.

He has been married for 20 years to Candace Bambei and is the father of 3 children, Kurt, Alexandra and Jackson. Paul is also a sports enthusiast, coach, Save Our Youth mentor and former Board member of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes.